

Daily Democrat.

TERMS OF THE DAILY DEMOCRAT TO THE COUNTRY.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

We are in search of a local agent in every Southern State in the Union.

Our readers have the proceedings of the Convention before them; and can form their own judgment.

The New York Tribune says: We are the States to say to the Federal Government to withdraw your proclamation of freedom.

We begin to believe that Greeley has more philosophy about him than most of his party, although he is the most radical Abolitionist in the United States.

Now, if he will restore the Union to re-assert all the negroes, or the white men, the first act is to be done.

It may be said that a man once free cannot be enslaved.

We are not now discussing laws or Constitutions, but military necessity, which knows no law but the necessity of the hour.

Upon this principle, the President can revoke his proclamation; and we affirm, without fear of contradiction, that his second proclamation will be as valid as the first.

We see a writer in the Tribune contending the position of Greeley. He talks about the doctrine of courts and laws and such like obsolete things.

Greeley is right. John Van Buren was right. "The President," said he, "has the right to issue any proclamation he pleases, and so have I."

We write this specially for Greeley's sake. He will feel awkward in giving the true foundation for his opinion.

That is now the great cry of the Abolitionists, and their allies in this State. No matter what the President does, no matter what Constitutional pledge he breaks; no matter if he stamps the Constitution in blood.

This Anglo-Saxon race passed through a terrible trial of despotism and ruin to the period of civil liberty, and we believe it to be one upon which no sword would ever rest. Principles so firmly established as completely recognized, it seemed almost to suppose could ever be overthrown.

Why must we sustain the Administration? In one breath we are told that we must not confound the acts of the Administration with those of the Government.

It is impossible for us to do both of these. If we sustain the Administration, we sustain the Government.

We must sustain the power, which prosecutes this war or we are ruined. That power is not the President, but the people.

The negro expedition into Florida and Georgia, the telegraph tells us, is captured. There it is. The last hope of the radicals is gone.

The negro expedition into Florida and Georgia, the telegraph tells us, is captured. There it is. The last hope of the radicals is gone.

The negro expedition into Florida and Georgia, the telegraph tells us, is captured. There it is. The last hope of the radicals is gone.

The negro expedition into Florida and Georgia, the telegraph tells us, is captured. There it is. The last hope of the radicals is gone.

AN ATROCIOUS PROPOSITION.—A writer in the St. Louis Democrat desires of seeing slavery in that State done away, now that the compensation scheme has failed, for want of the needful appropriation by Congress.

As the Democrats and many of the Clay-banks insist that this is a loyal State, would it not be well for the General Government to withdraw all protection not according to a loyal State, and thus determine how loyal this State really is?

Kentucky has not yet progressed as far as Missouri. This, doubtless, the Abolitionists will not deny, and the radicals will not.

Now, if he will restore the Union to re-assert all the negroes, or the white men, the first act is to be done.

It may be said that a man once free cannot be enslaved.

We are not now discussing laws or Constitutions, but military necessity, which knows no law but the necessity of the hour.

Upon this principle, the President can revoke his proclamation; and we affirm, without fear of contradiction, that his second proclamation will be as valid as the first.

We see a writer in the Tribune contending the position of Greeley. He talks about the doctrine of courts and laws and such like obsolete things.

Greeley is right. John Van Buren was right. "The President," said he, "has the right to issue any proclamation he pleases, and so have I."

We write this specially for Greeley's sake. He will feel awkward in giving the true foundation for his opinion.

That is now the great cry of the Abolitionists, and their allies in this State. No matter what the President does, no matter what Constitutional pledge he breaks; no matter if he stamps the Constitution in blood.

This Anglo-Saxon race passed through a terrible trial of despotism and ruin to the period of civil liberty, and we believe it to be one upon which no sword would ever rest.

Principles so firmly established as completely recognized, it seemed almost to suppose could ever be overthrown.

Why must we sustain the Administration? In one breath we are told that we must not confound the acts of the Administration with those of the Government.

It is impossible for us to do both of these. If we sustain the Administration, we sustain the Government.

We must sustain the power, which prosecutes this war or we are ruined. That power is not the President, but the people.

The negro expedition into Florida and Georgia, the telegraph tells us, is captured. There it is. The last hope of the radicals is gone.

The negro expedition into Florida and Georgia, the telegraph tells us, is captured. There it is. The last hope of the radicals is gone.

A PROPER MEASURE.—The Philadelphia Enquirer says that the not infrequent surprises and captures of our cavalry, while on outpost duty, have caused General Stoneman, Chief of Cavalry of the Army of the Potomac, to issue an important and stringent order, holding officers in command of parties engaged on scouting, outpost or picket duty, that in future they may be surprised and taken prisoners, they will be recommended for dismissal, the non-commissioned officers referred to the ranks, and the Government property entrusted to their care which may be captured by the enemy, charged to the enlisted men of the command surprised and themselves.

These disgraceful captures are almost invariably caused by disregard of orders or neglect of duty, and while no punishment can actually be too severe for the authors of the misfortune, the new regulation of General Stoneman is sufficiently rigid to enforce the increased care and caution necessary to at least reduce the number of such occurrences.

SUPPRESSION OF PHOTOGRAPHS OF DISTINGUISHED REBELS.—General Schenck has issued an order at Baltimore directing the Provost Marshal to proceed to the photographer or dealers in pictures in that city, and seize all pictures of rebel Generals and statesmen which they are publicly or privately exposing for sale.

From the epistolary peculiar to the Southern climate the negroes are regularly recruited during the yellow fever season in this department last year, not one of them was known to the authorities.

A SURE CURE FOR DIARRHEA.—A gentleman who has spent three years on the plains of Texas and Mexico, and been often attacked with diarrhea in its worst forms, relates the following simple remedy which he found effectual in his cure.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

On the 17th inst. there was a grand review of cavalry by General Rosecrans. It was a brilliant display. While the review was going on, word was brought that rebels had appeared in considerable force on the Salem pike.

The Southern Forts to be Garrisoned by Negroes.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

General Hunter has issued an order providing for a draft among the colored people of his department, in order that strong garrisons of thoroughly educated troops may be raised in the Southern forts and posts.

Letter from Clarksville.

(Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.) CLARKSVILLE, TENN., SATURDAY NIGHT, March 14, 1863.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

Sunny days again gladden the heart. To-day has by far been the softest and brightest of the season.

FROM VICKSBURG.

Things that Denote an Evacuation.—The Impending Attack upon Haines' Bluff.—Movements of the Army.

(Correspondence of the St. Louis Republic.) GEN. GRANT'S FLEET, March 7.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

To-day our army, at least that portion of it which has been ordered to Haines' Bluff, is in the process of evacuation.

MAIL ACCOUNT OF RICHARDSON'S GUERRILLAS.

(From the Memphis Bulletin, 1863.) We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

We have briefly stated that Richardson's guerrillas, and General Looney's force had been surprised, and captured, and killed.

